

★ Sexual Harassment

This program provides students with a framework for understanding the definition of sexual harassment and how to handle it. In addition, the issue of victim impact and the link between sexual harassment and other crimes is discussed.

★ Sexual Violence

This program is beneficial for many settings, including health classes, pre-prom or graduation discussions, or as preparation for college-bound students. Myths about sexual violence are examined along with the roles of boundaries, power, drugs, and alcohol. Students will learn about date-rape drugs and their effects.

★ Bullying

In high school, bullying behavior can escalate to include crimes such as theft, assault, hate crimes, weapons possessions, etc. Students will examine the power dynamic of bullying, the long-term effects on targets, and ways to be an active bystander.

★ Technology & Youth

The abundance of technology allows for new platforms for bullying, harassment, and dating violence to occur. Students will examine bullying behaviors through the use of technology and learn how to be responsible web users and protect sensitive information online. The definition and legal repercussion of sexting will also be covered during this program.

★ Healthy Relationships

This program addresses the very serious topic of dating violence. Students will discuss and identify signs of emotional, physical, and sexual abuse. They will also discuss healthy and unhealthy behaviors, as well as their rights and responsibilities as a partner.

★ Violence in the Media

The influence of the media on modern culture is explored through films such as Misrepresentation, Killing Us Softly, and Tough Guise to illustrate the gap between how violence and victimization is portrayed in the media versus what happens in reality.

★ Boys Becoming Men

Intended for an all-male audience, this program examines healthy masculinity and provides a safe space for self-examination and group discussion. Stereotypes of violence, the use of demeaning language, and the objectification of women are just a few of the topics brought to light through this program. In addition, we will discuss ways in which men can make a difference through bystander intervention as well as in their community when it comes to displaying the behavior conducive of a “real man”. This program can be delivered in two, 90 minute sessions or four, 45 minute sessions.

The programs described above are provided during one regular class period, unless otherwise noted. ALL ARE PROVIDED AT NO COST. If you would like to schedule a series of programs for your school or classroom, we can usually accommodate such requests. In addition, many of these programs can be adapted to parent education workshops.
